

The image is a detailed architectural site plan for the 'ZONA ESIBIZIONI' (Exhibition Zone) at the Venice Biennale 2013. The plan is oriented with North at the top. It shows a large, irregularly shaped exhibition area with various numbered and lettered sections. A central circular feature, likely a pond or a large circular structure, is surrounded by green spaces and palm trees. The plan is bordered by a road on the right and a canal on the left. The area is divided into several blocks, some of which are shaded in grey, indicating existing structures or specific zones. The plan includes a grid of numbers (1-56) and letters (A-T) for navigation. A scale bar is located at the bottom left, and a north arrow is at the bottom right.
